

o. Elliott welcomed in confirming the

GE, No. 464.

was held in the number 7th. Eighteen of Master Masons to the popular (Nicholson). The task of instruction carried out his candidates seemed and when they were could not help but in having acquired ire to devote their duty.
 Wor. Bro. A. P. rs that perfection andance to the re-ssed to perfection. ties by Wor. Bro. Bro. H. W. Stew-erton, D.C., Wor. ain in the absence illness) and Wor.

ent since the last be thanked for ters to coach and ing, the brethren were packed to e speeches of the ing nature. The ems of harmony, o. Clarrie Robin- the performance y of Collingwood leed fortunate in e is a very keen and capable of rs.
 to the Lodge as tes by its mem- e remarks were llan Lowe, who w Zealand. Bro. the interests of thren of 464.

A meeting night never seems to pass without a letter being read from Bro. McDonald, who has now settled in Adelaide, and Bro. Sam Trainor devotes what leisure hours he has to the writing of letters to a few of the members. The spirit at 464 is such that every Brother makes it a rule to be present at the regular meeting, and no better illustration of this point could be given than the efforts of Bro. Bill Paton, who has attended recent meetings, although he has found it necessary to attend on crutches.

The social affairs of the Lodge have received wonderful support, and the last dance of the season was a social and financial success, much to the delight of social secretary Bro. Sol. Simmonds.

Choir rehearsals are held each month at the home of the popular secretary, Wor. Bro. Haynes, P.J.G.D., and the brethren are grateful to him and his good lady for making their home available for these and other occasions.

Wor. Bro. Nicholson will give the members and their good ladies a social treat on the first Monday of December, and the members are looking forward to a night which will equal that of previous years.

The Christmas treat for members' children will be held late in December, and the kiddies will be looking forward to this night, more especially as it was necessary to abandon last year's treat on account of the epidemic.

ANSETT AIRWAYS.

Bro. R. M. Ansett, who controls the noted Ansett Airways, has had a distinguished career, and some months ago his activities were widely and favourably commented upon in a splendid article in the "Argus." He is the son of W. Bro. Chas. J. Ansett, P.G.Std.Br., who gave signal service to the Craft some years ago as an active Grand Officer, in which he visited many country districts. He has more recently been known as a most diligent Grand Officer in the Mark degree. Owing to the strenuous task of so many years of active service he has been obliged to take a rest. He was Master in the Craft in 1911, and later joined Balwyn Lodge, No. 275. He served as Treasurer for 30 years. In the year 1927 he was unanimously elected as Grand Steward under the late M.W. Bro. W. P. Bice, as G.M., and the rank of P.G.Std.Br. was later conferred upon him by M.W. Bro. W. Warren Kerr as G.M. He gave five years' continuous service in the Grand Mark, and is now a P.S.G.O. With the formation of Belgrave Mark Lodge, No. 108, he lent valuable assistance. He is one of the Principals of Camberwell R.A. Chapter, and J. in the recently-formed Camberwell R.A. Mariners. We trust that a Mason with such a fine record will soon be restored to his usual health and be with us for many years to come.